W.M.A. OVERWHELMS STAUNTON IN LAST GAME OF SEASON

Visitors Have Impressive Record for Year; Graupner and Caterina Star For The Northern Team

By L. E. MALAKOFF A hurricane from the cold North swept down on Kable Field Thanksgiving Day, devastating the Blue and Gold gridiron machine with a speed and lightgradron machine with a speed and light-ning-like attack that has very seldom been seen in the scholastic sphere of this section. The large holiday crowd was amazed when the Wenonah Military Academy of New Jersey rolled up 39 points and held S. M. A. scoreless.

The Wenonah team has scored 348 points this season to her opponents' six George School of Pennsylvania being the only school to score on them. At that, George School only scored in the final moments of the game when they blocked a punt over the goal line. This is the second year that Coach Baker's clan has gone through the season undefeated.

The game was filled with many thrilling plays of which Wenonah took the greater part in. The fans all were amazed at the two great backfield men whom the northern team brought down with them. Bill Graupner, the quarterback, and Nick Caterina, halfback, were the individual stars of the game. It was not a rare sight to see either one of the two gallop down the field for many yards, behind some pretty interference. Bill, who is a great pal of Chuck Wise, is the highest scorer in New Iersey, scoring over half of the Wenonah team's touchdowns. He is one of the shiftiest backs that has played on our field since

A. boy to make the All-State team, played a real good game, being in there every minute of the fight. It was a good battle between Charley and his buddy, Graup-ner. Seely was about the only Kabelite to gain ground consistently. Hazlett, who played his first varsity game against Wenonah, had the honor of making one of the best plays of the game. WENONAH COACH EXPRESSES THANKS

Below is part of a letter from the Athletic Director at Wenonah Military Academy. It is self-explanatory and should be very gratifying to the cadet corps here.

Wenonah, N. J., Dec. 5, 1927.

School Paper, Staunton Military Academy, Va.

Let me take this opportunity, to thank the Staunton Military Academy officials and student body for their omericals and student body for their wonderful treatment and every courtesy extended to the Wenonah Cadets upon their visit Thanksgiving Day. We all enjoyed our stay, and, frankly, your reception was by far superior to any treatment accorded us by any other school frankly, superior to any treatments by any other school.

Very truly yours,

GEO. B. BAKER,

Athletic Director.

SWIMMERS BEGIN DAILY PRACTICE

First Call for Candidates Made Last Week; Four Letter Men Report

With the return of four letter men from the last year's championship swimming team and a wealth of new material this year, Coach Wilshin is greatly pleased with the prospects of another good season. The team is practicing for their schedule that opens against the Virginia Military Institute freshmen at exington on January 14.

On the tentative schedule there are eight schools with a return match with the Friend School of Baltimore in our pool. Last year the team traveled to Baltimore and came home with another victory under its belt. A trip is being planned either to Washington or to Bal-with Captain Fry, Manager Auchmuty, Squires, and Rosar back, there is a good nucleus around which the team a good nucleus around which the team will be built. Apgar, the star of the previous team, will not be missed much, as the Woods twins, of Chicago, will replace him. The both of them, Waldo and LeRov, will undoubtedly be a big factor in the success of the team. In this week's practice they have both broken the pool record in their respective events, LeRoy swimming the 220-yard dash in 2 minutes and 50 seconds, while Waldo swam the 40-yard breastyard dash in 2 minutes and 50 seconds, while Waldo swam the 40-yard breast-stroke in 25 1-10, tying the state record also. Both of these boys hold record in swimming at Chicago. Others who are showing up well are Abbott, Seymour, McCambell, Treadgold, Brandow, Kerst, and Eakins.

The schedule this year will be one of the best that the swimming team has seen in several years. Efforts are being made to arrange a meet with Eastern High and Devitt Prep in Washington or Tome and Baltimore City College. The following is a tentative schedule

BASKETBALL TEAM BUSY PREPARING FOR SCHEDULE

Outlook is Excellent for Another Championship Five; Two Letter Men Return

For the first time in many years the basketball season has started before the Christmas furlough. With only two letter men back from last year's quintet, Coach Frank L. Team Shows Much Prowess in Trouncing The Leaksville "Y" 46 to 30

The Staunton basketeers won the initial game of the basketball schedule when they trounced the Leaksville Y. M. C. A. of North Carolina 46 to 30. The game was ragged at times, with both teams missing many "snowbirds" be-cause of it being the first tilt for both teams.

The Blue and Gold found difficulty in getting started, but when the combination of Rassmussen and Iglesais started to work, they dropped the oval into the basket almost at will. Rasmussen played a good shooting game, while Iglesais starred on the floor with his Iglesais starred on the floor with his good game. It was not a rare sight to see Rass and Hickey start down the floor with the ball ending in the basket for a two-pointer. Brown, who went into the game for Cheshire, gave a good account of himself. He starred under the basket, scoring five field goals. Chuck also gave a good account of himself. This team looks much better than the five that represented Staunton in the (Continued on Page Three)

BOXING TEAM IS GETTING IN SHAPE

Twenty Men Now on Squad to Represent S. M. A. in Ring

Captain Joe Taylor is confronted with the problem of building an entirely new boxing team this year, for there are only two letter men left from the squad of last season, namely, Bud Brady and Bob Ehrig. Both men are expected to enter into several of the matches this winter, however, Ehrig will be lost to the team after February, as he expects to enter Penn State at that time.

The gymnasium is equiped with more material than ever before. In the boxing room they have added two new sang bags, which will help to develop the punch of many of the boxers, three more striking bags, and several extra sets of training gloves. With this material, Captain Taylor can take more men under his care and develop them to a much finer stat ethan before.

When Coach Taylor issued the call for candidates after football season, quite a number of cadets turned out for the squad, but it has now dwindled down to twenty men. All these men are being put through their paces daily in preparation for the first match, which is shortly after the Christmas furlough. Prospects are beginning to shape up well, and we are looking forward to a successful season.

In the heavyweight class, R. K. Smith, and Avery. who hails from New Brunswick, N. J., are battling it out for the chance to represent S. M. A. in this class. Bob Ehrig, who did not lose a match last year, along with Jack Burns and Sileby are apprehicable. and Silsby, are swatting licks with each other for a place in the middleweight class. The material in the welterweight class is all new, but will soon round out into shape. Among the most promising (Continued on Page Four)

PROMPT ACTION BY "C" COMPANY CADET PUTS OUT FIRE

By pouring a bucketfull of S. M. A. water into a burning refuse can, "Fire-man Rex" McSweeney, who is an inmate of room 341 and a member of Co. "C," probably saved the immediate vicinity of Staunton from a fire.

By some unknown cause, the contents of a trash-can belonging to Sub-Divisor a trash-can belonging to Sub-Division number ten, caught on fire. Since "Fireman Fritz" was no where to be found, our hero, Rex McSweeney, rose to the occasion by rolling the can to the nearest Wash Room. Then grabbing a bucket out of another trash can, "Fireman Rex" bravely rushed to the Wash Room, filled the bucket with water and poured same on the fire thus saying poured same on the fire, thus saving Staunton from serious and untold conflagration.

When "Fireman" Rex was asked to make a statement for the "Kablegram," he modestly said, "Us superior mortals must do all the thinking for this De Vine and Walker crowd! Ahem!" "Fireman" Rex is being rewarded for his deed by Capt. Hill who is kindly giving him a little extra Beat and Confinement

At this affair there will be much speech making between the courses, ending with the election of the captain and manager for the season of 1928.

Some people will consider the past season as a success while others will think otherwise. The team won three games, lost four and tied the other. The varsity won two great battles when they trounced Fishburne, who had been undefeated and unscored on, and also Massanutten. The game with Fishburne was an upset and it put them out of the running for the state championship.

Col. T. G. Russell Attends Philadelphia Alumni Meet

Col. T. G. Russell, Commandant of adets, was the guest of the Philadelphia Alumni Association the week end of November 26. Col. Russell delivered an address to the newly formed organization on the importance of organized Alumni.

The meeting and banquet was held at the Rittenhouse Hotel in Philadelphia and was well attended by many former cadets living in Philadelphia and the vicinity.

The association was formed under the supervision of Mr. Wm. C. Rowland a trustee of the Academy. He was assisted by a committee composed of former students at S. M. A. This gives one more chapter to the S. M. A. Alumni associations already in existence in New York and New England. H. W. Bradford who is excitated. ford who is assistant manager of the Ford Motor Company of Philadelphia was elected president of the association.

During the Christmas holidays the chapter plans to give a dance and have as their guests the present cadets living in the territory already mentioned.

The necessary arrangements for the organization of an Alumni association in Chicago are also under way. The work is under the supervision of Comnon Dorsey, '23, of Chicago, and Robert Wick, who is at present at the Academy.

MOVIES TONIGHT

The last half of study hall will be dismissed this evening to enable the cadets to witness a moving picture show in the gymnasium under the auspices of the Cotillion Club. The title of the picture to be shown is "The Blonde Saint," starring Lewis Stone and Doris Keyton. It is a picture of high tone and should be thoroughly enjoyed. The Y. M. C. A. cards will not be accepted for admission to this picture, but each cadet will be charged fifteen cents.

The Christmas Furlough

The Christmas furlough is now close at hand. Of course every Cadet should look forward anxiously to seeing his folks and spending a happy Christmas season with his friends at home. However, his anticipation should not be so great that he neglects his work and drops all responsibility a week beforehand.

When the Corps is finally dismissed next Thursday, all of us will be elated and probably be in the spirit for raising the very devil. But let us remember that we are still Staunton Cadets. Many people in town who think very highly of the Cadet Corps would lose a great deal of their respect for us if they should see any of our number carrying on in any but a gentlemanly manner.

Even when we arrive in our own home towns we should be careful! Surely we shall be far from Staunton, but still we wear the uniform we shall be far from Staunton, but still we wear the uniform.

The worst disgrace that can ever fall upon a uniformed man is drunkenness. Let us remember that, released from restrictions, we are just as much S. M. A. men then as we are right here in the barracks.

Faculty

Faculty are one of the necessary evils. They are like J. D.'s, dirt and rifles. Most of the Faculty are here to teach us something. There is perhaps one that is not any good, but cadets can't agree which one. Everyone has his own best and worst liked Faculty. It really all depends on the cadet.

Perhaps a Faculty will report you. He is a "blinkety-blank" according to you.

Did you ever stop to look at his side? Don't you have little peculiarities? Every-

Did you ever stop to look at his side? Don't you have little peculiarities? Everyone is human, even Faculty.

In all probability the two men who come in for the most razzing is the Commandant, and the Professor of Military Science and Tactics. If you get more Beat than you want, you cuss out the Commandant. If you don't get an appointment, or if you do and get busted, the P. M. S. and T. comes in for his share. Did you ever look at their side?

Stop and think it over.

Col. Thomas H. Russell, president, and Major Roy W. Wonson, headmaster, have returned from Jacksonville, Fla., where they attended the annual meeting of the Association of Colleges and Secondary schools of the South.

According to reports read at the convention, Staunton Military Academy again leads the essentially military schools of the South in the success in colleges of boys prepared here.

According to the last S. M. A. Bulletin Major R. W. Wonson has been elected Secretary and Treasurer of the Associa-tion of Military Schools and Colleges of the United States.

Post Chaplain W. S. Thomas has been appointed a member of the local ex-amining board for Reserve Officers representing the Chaplains' section.

On Sunday night, December 11, the Stuart Hall choir will give a concert.
The program will be divided into three parts, including Christmas, violin and popular selections. On this same date last year the choir entertained us and all the old boys can tell you of its suc-

JUNIOR VARSITY FIVE BEING ORGANIZED

To help the varsity and to give more cadets an opportunity to play the winter pastime, Coach Frank L. Summers, head of the athletic department, has added a junior varsity basketball five to the list of athletic sports. The Junior Varsity has as its' coach Lieutenant Smith who played basketball several years ago at Center College.

The J. V.'s, besides scrimmaging against the varsity daily, will have a schedule of seven to ten games of their own, and also receive letters for playing. The schedule is being arranged now but will not be completed till after the Holidays. This is the first time in several years that junior varsity sports have been organized on the hill. Captain Summers discontinued them some years ago be-cause they did not prove successful, but has introduced them again and so far

Members of the junior varsity will be allowed to play with their respective company teams when the schedule starts. The company basketball season will start in the early part of January. It is from the company and junior varsity squads that Captain Summers obtains his ma-terial for the varsity. There are many cases in which cadets have started on the company teams and before the end of the season have been playing regularly on the varsity.

Lt. Smith has much promising material for a good squad, that will give the varsity and the high school teams in this vicinity much opposition. Although the team has not been practicing very long, the coach has looked over the squad and the following are a list of prospective men: Townsend, Dingwall, Jobe, Merkent, DelPretc, Ake, Reese, Renella, Teagarden, Murray, Eakins, Ready, Almy, Kable, and Caisse.

Dance Next Wednesday Night

On Wednesday afternoon from four until five forty-five a dance will be held. This will mark the last dance before the Christmas furlough. During intermission refreshments will be served. It is hoped that the cadets will respond, and will turn out in large numbers. This is the first time an afternoon dance has been held here for several years, and it will be something new to many of the students.

THE CONFESSIONS OF AN UN-FORTUNATE KEYDET

Oh! I walked through the sally-port, And a butt was in my hand, Yes for I was feeling happy— A singing to beat the band!"

I bumbs into the Col. Ted, Of course, t'would be my luck: He regains his equilibrium And yells at me "You're stuck."

"For ten-thousand year-like hours Back and forth, I walked my beat, I used to be a runner, But now you should see my feet!"

First Keydet: "What must one be to be buried with military honor's."
Second Keydet: "An officer."
First Pinhead: "No dead."

Captain Benson: "All the cadets who have studied the lesson assigned for today raise their hand."

(Ihrisky raises hand.)

Captain Benson: "Lucky there isn't more than one lier in this class. Same assignment for tomorrow."

DAY BY DAY AT S. M. A. BY "THE OLD VET"

Here I am again after a period of more than two weeks trying to relate the happenings around here. After that last issue of the KABLEGRAM I thought someone would probably be out gunning for me. Things have been mighty quiet here of late, and there has been very little of importance happen.

That football game on Thanksgiving Day was a wow. I have seen several bad defeats but that was the worst. Our team is to be congratulated on the fine spirit they showed. The boys from Wenonah had us out-classed, there was Wenonah had us out-classed, there was no doubt about that. But there is just one thing I can't understand, and that is where did they get all the professionals? I do hope big boy Frank will have a squad next season that will play a different time with our friends from a different tune with our friends from New Jersey.

It just came to my attention about the adventure of "Suitcase" Simpson, the boy with the biggest feet in the corps. I understand that "Suitcase" went hunting several weeks ago and came back with several rabbits. He claims he shot those rabbits while running, with a 22 caliber rifle. Now boys some of us might believe that, but there is a question in my mind. We all know that Cy was one of the best shots on the rifle team last of the best shots on the rifle team last year, but I feel quite sure Capt. Joe didn't have rabbits running loose at gal-lery practice last season.

Cadet First Sgt. Ehrig, the loudest mouthed boy in the battalion, is still holding his own. When this lad calls his roll at drill it is a difficult matter to believe it is a human y ... To a stranger it would sound like the bark of some canine species. While we are on the subject of oud mouths, it wouldn't seem fair to forget Ehrig's brithy roommate, Cact Sg. Aug. Between the comparison. TUT

"Monk" Van Horn, the Sweetheart of South Barracks, was on the verge of collapse the other day when he accidently broke his glass acquarium containing one turtle. He regained his equilibrium when he found a temporary home for "Tommy' 'in a spare tin box. Moral—Don't pour hot water in a cold glass container and not expect it to break.

Last week something happened that was neither seen nor heard, but exercised ones' sense of smell considerably. Stink bombs!

Capt. Moody "spilled the beans" in Study Hall last Saturday by accidently uncovering the mystery of who had been blowing buckshot about the Hall.

Cranford: "A mosquito just bit me." Del Prete: "Put some lotion on it." Cranford: "But the blamed thing flew

-Exchange. Cadets Foshee and McKenzie, the two cousins from Alabama, were overheard discussing the snow. "It looks just like 'popped rain' doesn't it?" said Foshee. "Yes," said McKenzie, "but were's the snowballs everybody talks about?"

"Fireman Fritz" has a rival in "Fireman Rex" McSweeney—

Lt. Brown: "Rosar, what makes you so forgetful-you left home in September and you can get back there now, can't you?"

Rosar: "It all depends upon the condition I'm in!"

Evans wants to know how you can get the "horsepower" of a Donkey engine.

Burnham: "Irene has an awful long neck, don't you think?" Thomason: "Yeah, but I enjoy every minute of it!"

ANNOUNCEMENT

This is the last issue in all probability in which the Here's How Contest wil run. The corps has given us so little encouragement that we have decided to discontinue the contest. We are now attempting to determine a new contest to begin after the holidays that will be more suitable, or easier for the corps. Sug-gestions will be welcomed from anyone having ideas to this end. The Here's How editor wishes all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, and wishes Halsey ,Collier, and Phil Hanger to know he appreciates their help.

THANKSGIVING FORMAL DANCE PROVED TO BE A BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Thursday night the Turkey Day Hop was held and turned out to be the most successful dance ever given here.

Tal Henry's band from Charlotte, North Carolina, really went over big with all those present. Old "Tal" lived up to the reputation he gained last year, when he played at the Final Ball. Those present Thursday will not easily forget the red hot music put out by "Tal" and big gregger.

The music began at ten and the dance was well under way by ten thirty. A few young ladies from Manch Music College were present, but had to leave at intermission.

There were many visitors present, including the many girl friends of the cadets, Alumni, and the Wenonah football team from New Jersey. The faculty, Alumni, and the teams were guests of the Cotillion Club.

Favors were given out for the first time at a Thanksgiving dance. Each young lady received a Trojan bracelet with three blue jets and an S. M. A. seal. Each member of the Wenonah factbell gaved received a leather cigar football squad received a leather cigarette case with the S. M. A. shield.

The informal dance, which was held the following night, was well attended to the following night, which was night, which were night, which we have not the following night, which we have night ni

It was only recently that he received a letter from Mr. C. D. Shultz of the McClure Printing Company of Staunton, congratulating him on being selected on the All-State team. saving another possible score.

Graupner scored the first touchdown the game in the early moments, when his line opened a huge hole through the Blue and Gold defense letting the shifty back cross the goal line unmolested. It was but a tew minutes later when Shuman intercepted one of the S. M. A. forward passes and ran forty yards for a touchdown. Kelly, the immense guard kicked the extra point.

Early in the second quarter, Nic Caterina gave the fans a treat when he ran twenty-five yards around end behind some good interference for another six pointer. It was not long before this slippery lad broke lose again and ran around end for twenty more yards and another touchdown. It was a different team that entered upon the field in the third quarter. Staunton tightened up and it looked like a better eleven. Wenonah failed to gain on the fifty-five yard line with the ball on the fity-five yard line with the ball going to the home team. After two unsuccessful tries at the line, the ball was punted to the thirty yard line where Wise stopped Graupner in his tracks. It was here that Hazlett recovered the pigskin and gave S. M. A. a chance to score. In four plays ending with a pass, Wallace to Trainer, Staunten lost the

was evenly fought.

Towards the closing minutes of the game Wenonah added two more touchdowns to their large score. Graupner punted the ball to Wallace, the pigskin hitting him on the chest and he fumbled it with a Wenonah player recovering it. After several plays Graupner broke loose on a lateral pass and ran thirty-five yards for a touchdown. Later Graupner punted from the sixty yard line, the ball being fumbled by Wallace and Kelly rolled over the goal line for a touchdown. However, this did not count because of a new ruling that a fumbled cause of a new ruling that a fumbled ball is dead on a punt where it is recovered. However Borzilla who did not make a touchdown all season, crashed through tackle for his first touchdown and the final one of the day.

BASKETBALL TEAM

In Harry Rassmussen and Mohickey Iglesais, we have two able forwards who will make us forget the winning combination of Coop French and Utz Diedrich. It is mighty hard to pick the better of these two men, as both are good shots and clever floor men, with Iglesais slightly faster than Rass. Both lads work together as if they were the original work together as if they were the original Siamese Twins. The other contestants for the forward berths are the two Henry's, T. A. and E. H., (not brothers by the way), and Cochrane and Gifford. Tom Henry was at S. M. A. several years ago and played on the varsity then. He has been slow getting off this season, but it will not be long before he steps into his regular stride. E. H. Henry played on one of the company teams last year and with a little more experience should shape up alright. Cochrane, a southnaw and Gifford, are keeping the others stepping along to keep their positions.

At the pivot position we have a merry battle between Brown and Cheshire. De-spite the fact that he is a letter man form last year's team, Brown has to keep going, for Chess is pressing him along. Cheshire, as we have heard, was the highest scorer in New York State last year. Both men are tall, with Brownie having the slight advantage of height, thus being able to out jump Cheshire most of the time. Both men are fair shots, with Brown excelling under the basket, but Cheshire is proving that he is a better floor man. Barry Goldwater may see action at this post as he has played there as well as at Charley Wise and Red Whittington seem to be the best bets for the guard positions. Red played at Savannah High School last year and made a name for himself at that place. Although he is small in stature, Whittington is mighty fast, and a clever man to have at the defense position. This is the third season that Chuck has played on the varsity quintet, and if he plays this season as he has done previously, Charley will have no trouble in making the mythical.
