The City Property Committee of Councils held a meeting yesterday, but only six out of twenty-four members signified their intention of visiting the proposed site for a bath house in the Twenty-fifth ward, consequently the trip was not taken. This is the site over which there has been a good deal of wrangling and claims that the property is not worth the price asked have been made.

a Hearing Before the Board of Inquiry To-morrow

With a crowd of people watching them, two policemen, it is alleged, fought for nearly half an hour on Tuesday morning TWELFTH and MARKET while two other officers looked on, one of whom is said to have acted as referee and the other as master of ceremonies.

The bluecoats went about it in regular prize-ring style, and witnesses say the "go" was quite lively, though no one was

ACCEPTED THE CHALLENGE. When one offered to fight the other the challenge was readily accepted. They went directly to the little store and walked in without invitation from the proprietor's wife, who was busily engaged outside attending to a fruit stand. She knew two of the officers, and, knowing that policemen like to take a rest, she did not pay much attention to them. But when she heard the loud talking of the men she looked in and saw that the floor had been cleared for battle. She did not want to incur the enmity of the policemen, so she allowed them to have full sway while she attended to business at

With everything arranged, the two offi-cers were soon pummeling each other. They could be plainly seen from the street They could be plainly seen from the street through the open door, and as the fight progressed a crowd gathered. Spectators were undesirable, and the fight was stopped when one of the other officers went outside and ordered the crowd away. It was a treat for those who had gathered, and they did not care about moving. One of those who was standing near the store door was Edward O. Steward, of 1105 McIllravy street, an elderly colored man, who derives a liveliheod by whitewashing.

Who derives a liveliheed by whitewashing.

He had business in the neighborhood and was probably the first to see what was going on in the little store. The policeman who undertook to chase the crowd away approached the aged whitewasher first. The officer was in civilian's dress and Stewart did not know who he was. "We don't want any excitement outside here, Pap, and you and the others will have to move on," said the policeman. Stewart had not done any thing wrong, and, refusing to go sway, the policeman threatened to lock him up. Stewart thought that the officer was only

The reorganization of the National Guard began in earnest yesterday afternoon, when Brigadier-General Morrell re turned to Harrisburg, where he had a conference with the Governor. Colonel Leland was the first of the large number of visitors in waiting to secure an interview, and a short time later it was given out that the Twentieth Regiment, consisting of eight companies, under the com-mand of Colonel Leland, would be the first to be sworn into the Guard. The battery being recruited by Colonel Sheldon Potter at Battery A armory has also been accepted. The nucleus of Colonel Leland's regiment is composed of Girard College men, Regiment armory. The appointment of Captain Ambrose Higgins, of this city, to command a company of Signal Corps men will enable Philadelphians to enter that arm of the service. Yesterday he opened an office at 1812 Filbert street, and will re cruit fifty men. None but expert telegraphers and electricians will be accepted. Major David J. Craigie yesterday received official notice of his assignment to the Twenty-fifth Infantry of Arkansas, Bernard Hagney, of the First Battalion, Company B, Marine Corps, which took part in the battle at Guantanamo, has written a brief account of his recent experience in Cuba to his uncle Terrence, who lives at 2304 Pulaski avenue, under date of June 15.

Among other things he says: "I had my foot hurt in a battle on Bunday night by one of our big guns, but it don't amount to much. We have had a terrible time since we landed here. The first night they took us unexpectedly and we had a hard time with them. We only had two men killed in that battle and we drove them back and it has been very near a continuous fight ever since, but they can't stand our rapid fire. On Tues-
